

Hi Everybody,

From today, a slightly rearranged Blog, and a focus on current events ...

Sailing and Angling Report

This is from RC Sailing Kevin, a big thank you to all that were there on Saturday morning to help clear the boat shed and slip way. A really good job done by all!

Also, a remind to sailors that we start sailing on the 2nd May. An 11am prompt start, with anybody not signed on and on the water by this time unable to compete. We are going to be very strict on start times this year, as it is unfair on the Race Officer and RIB crews that gives up their time to wait for sailors who are late or unsure how to rig their dinghy. If you have questions or need help, please speak to Kevin, who will be happy to help. Also, volunteers for RIB crew who would like to be more familiar with the VHF radio, Kevin is more than happy to give lessons. Also, I am more than happy to give training to anyone who wishes to learn the winch. Please do just contact me on any of the above points where I can help.

On another subject, if any social members would like to learn about race sailing and what happens on the water, the best way to learn about this is as a race officer or assistant. Trenchard is more than happy to teach anyone interested so do get in touch with me firstly to make this happen.

RC Angling Steve made it out on Sunday to enjoy the lovely weather. Five boats went out with lots of doggies who were caught with a few Bream, Smoothhounds, Plaice and a small Conger. Pete with Evie had 2 Plaice, 2 Breems, a Skate, a Wrasse and some dogfish.

One of our junior members Matthew, who was out with grandad and grandma Chris and Sally, was busy showing them what to do when he was in charge of them as an angler! Watch out you two – he looks very confident and well ahead of you.....

There really is always some fish who really don't want to play with us!

Finally found out why the fish weren't biting...

Membership

Just a reminder that we are still waiting to hear from some of our members who haven't yet let us have their new membership form with their fees. Do let us know of your choices, plus any areas that you would be interested in taking part of. If you would like me to send you the membership address then just let me know – you can pay the fee online or leave a cheque with the invoice for me to hand over to the Membership Secretary. All over to you.

Bar Duties

For the time being, I will keep attaching the bar duties to the weekly blog in the hope that members will email me and let me know if they are free to help us for them to take over. Do let us know and any of the others that you think you can help me with. Email me and let me know where you can help. Many thanks in anticipation!

Social Events

Don't forget that in a couple of weeks our RC Social & Fundraising, Jo Ruane has organised for a singing event with Elvis and Malc De Reding to be held during the afternoon of Sunday 30th May. More information will be circulated but, in the meantime, do make sure that you log this date so you can join us. Let's hope the weather will be good and we can all enjoy!

Keep safe and look forward to seeing you all soon,

Jill
